G-1450 – Credit Card Transaction

Form G-1450 can be used to pay for your application fee with a credit or debit card. You should only use this form if you are unable to acquire a check or if you do not have access to enough funds and are concerned your check would not go through.

In case of future updates, make sure to download the most recent version of the form from the USCIS website for any new application.

Enter your full name as it appears on your passport.

Enter your name as it appears on your credit or debit card.

Enter the billing address associated with your credit or debit card.

Enter the relevant information about your credit or debit card.

If any part of Form G-1450 is not filled out or is filled out incorrectly, your payment will not go through and USCIS will return your application.

If you plan to use Form G-1450, contact your bank to let them know to expect the payment. If your bank thinks that the charge is fraudulent and freezes your account, USCIS will not attempt to process your payment a second time and will return your application.
